

EXHIBIT 8 10 9
2/23/07
HB 781

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Greg Farish

Turah

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Kathy Dervy

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Mark Wehri

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Kalen Zier

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Jennifer Baugns

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Christine Frame

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Ken Estell

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Ingrid Estell

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Leslie Jensen

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Twila Old Coyote

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Albert Barlow

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Ralph Stone

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Angela Goodhope

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Maggie Yobst

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Val Piercy

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Lucille Tucker

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Carole Meyers

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Dustin Hankinson

East Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Theresa Martinson East Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Michael Regnier

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Deb Kosch

Lolo

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Mark Boatman

East Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Angela Goodhope

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Auralia Beaumont

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Michelle Bigback

Butte

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Robert Bigback

Butte

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Keri Daniels

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Crystal LaPlant

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Matt Van Bienne

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Rachel Elkon

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Alex Roberts

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Janet Robideau

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Eran Thompson

Billings

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Sapphire Diamant-Rink East Glacier

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Virginia Cleavland

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Nate Sloan

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Rebecca Lani

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Ford Johnson

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Anita Anderson

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Mary Borchard

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Lois Berguson

Missoula

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Francine White

Lolo

Dear House Judiciary Committee,

We, the Undersigned stand in firm agreement that the State of Montana must have accountability in its Racial Profiling Law.

We believe that House Bill 781, Racial Profiling Data Collection is the best step in that direction. We can follow states like Texas and Missouri as leaders in this movement. The implementation of data collection systems will lead to countless benefits for police departments and communities around our state. This data collection process will :

- ➡ Send a strong message to our communities that our law enforcement agencies are against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- ➡ Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- ➡ Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- ➡ Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- ➡ Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- ➡ Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- ➡ Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- ➡ Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

We urge you to vote to pass House Bill 781,

Sincerely,

Deb Kosch

Lolo